Choice Rock Plants and Perennials

2-year Plants, Field Grown

We recently bought a well-known grower's entire collection, one of the finest in U. S., and the prices are reasonable. Come and see our new Rock Gardens, one-quarter mile west of 12-mile corner, on Baseline Road.

A garden of perennials grows more beautiful year by year, and they present such an infinite variety in flower and plant that every taste can be suited. We are going to urge, if your space permits, that several plants of a sort be used in your garden (except the larger plants, where perhaps a single one may be effective) rather than just one plant each of many kinds. We think you'll be better pleased with the results.

And please order and plant early if possible—early planting is one of the greatest factors of success. Besides, in some of the rarer things, stock is limited.

IMPORTANT

Unless the description specifies that a plant thrives best in shade or semi-shade, please understand that the preference is for a sunny location. The majority need sun for best development.

An (R) will designate those especially suited to rock gardens.

- ACAENA GLABRA, (R) A pretty little plant resembling a tiny rose-bush. More remarkable for foliage than flowers. 5 inches, 15c.
- ACAENA MICROPHYLIA, (R). Extremely attractive, with its spiny red burrs. 15c.
- ACHILLA AGERATIFOLIA, (R). Rosettes of silver gray foliage, hugging the ground. Flowers white, 9 inches. 15c.
- ACHILLIA MILLEFOLIUM ROSEUM, (R) The heads of rosy pink flowers are borne from mid-summer until late fall, 18 inches, 15c.
- ACHILLEA SERICEA, (R) Arching fronds of gray-green, heads of brilliant yellow flowers. 8 inches, 15c.
- ACHILLEA SETACEA, (R) Fern-shaped, aromatic foliage, large heads of deep yellow flowers. Give it plenty of room. 1 foot, 15c.

One of Our Iris Gardens
IRIS—GERMANICA

No other hardy plant is getting quite so much attention nowadays as the Iris, and if you have seen an Iris-bordered path in June, flaunting its regal purple and delicate lavender and rich bronze in the spring sunshine, or have had the privilege of viewing a collection which included some of the magnificent new introductions from France and England, and our own American originations, you will admit there is ample reason.

Irises increase rapidly and soon form handsome clumps. They are transplanted in early spring or early fall with equal certainty of thriving in their new locations, but fall planting gives greater assurance of flowers the first season. The roots should not be set too deep—a couple of inches of soil to cover is sufficient. They require good drainage and prefer full sunshine. Manure is particularly distasteful to them and often fatal, but bone-meal and air-slaked lime are excellent. June is the month of most prolific bloom.

SEEDS

Such persistent inquiry has come for seeds that we are offering the following choice assortment. All are fresh gathered from our gardens this past season and should give fine results. No guarantee whatever is given, however, as care is the secret of success with seeds and that is manifestly beyond our control. Occasional failures must be expected, too, by even the most experienced.

All should be started under glass or indoors. An excellent soil to use is a good garden loam with about a third sand. As soon as plants are large enough, transplant and shade until established. Refer to any book on gardening for more detailed instruction.

A uniform price per packet is quoted. A generous quantity of seeds is included in the commoner and more prolific kinds, comparatively few to the packet in the rare sorts.

The price, 20 CENTS PER PACKET; SIX FOR $1.00.
